

Netherlands Network Precision Medicine presents:

SYMPOSIUM 2019

“Functional work in precision medicine: from suspicion to confirmation”

Thursday 28th of November 2019, Nijmegen

Program

09:30 – 10:05	Registration & welcome
10:05 – 10:50	Dr. Manoe Jansen (Utrecht University) Potential of CRISPR-Cas9 in precision medicine
10:50 – 12:00	Abstract presentations
12:00 – 12:45	Lunch
12:45 – 13:30	Dr. Bas Heijmans (Leiden UMC) Extracting gene regulatory networks from large-scale population genomics data
13:30 – 14:45	Abstract presentations
14:45 – 15:15	Coffee break
15:15 – 16:00	Dr. Erik Storkebaum (Radboud University) Towards personalized medicine for peripheral neuropathy
16:00 – 17:00	Abstract prize announcement & drinks

Submit an abstract to be selected for an oral presentation!

Location:

RIMLS research tower, Figdor lecture theatre (8th floor, route 289)
Address: Geert Grooteplein Zuid 28, 6525 GA Nijmegen

NNPM symposium committee:

Dr. Marieke Coenen, Dr. Jesse Swen, Dr. Lale Erdem, Dr. Susanne Vijverberg, Maaïke van der Lee (MSc), Marije Klumpers (MSc)

Registration costs: €25,00
(including lunch and drinks)

Register here. Registration deadline: 21st of November.

Send your abstract to:
Marieke.Coenen@radboudumc.nl

Abstract submission deadline:
7th of November.